

The United Shield International Kent Shield is a specialist shield designed to allow for easy entry into buildings, high speed movements and good overall body coverage. It incorporates a multifunctional ambidextrous handle, enabling the shield to be used by both left and right handed people. To ease the load of the shield, there is an option neck strap which allows the shield to hang across the body and frees both hands for other tasks.

The Kent shield is a lightweight, high speed, high mobility shield that offers the operator unequalled freedom of movement with the ability to be able to use the custom gun rest for greater accuracy and protection. The unique weapons mount allows the operator the ability to deploy the shield and their weapon at the same time without exposing the arm.
